Erin McCarley, Gotta Figure

I separated my heart from my head
To feel out whats inside
I dont like what I see so I say
Good night
Dont wake me cuz Im dreaming in color
Black and white is not my friend
Candy coded figures only in my bed
Ive never been so deep inside a shadow
Ive never been so insecure of what I know
Ive gotta figure it out
I need a story to tell
Wheres the feeling I long for
Ive gotta figure it out
Before I lose you love
Big city streets are calling me loud
The busy keeps me high
Well this quiet town is wearing me down tonight
Well I know that I should stay here for a while
Listen to the sound
Of my shaky heart
Looking for gold in the ground
Ive never been so deep inside a shadow
Ive never been so insecure of what I know
Ive gotta figure it out
I need a story to tell
Wheres the feeling I long for
Ive gotta figure it out
Before I lose you love
Its not ok to make him wait
To make you wonder why I
Cant hold you close and give you hope
That this will be all right
I wanna make it right
Gotta figure this out
I need a story to tell
Wheres the feeling I long for
Ive gotta figure this out
I need a story to tell
Wheres the feeling I long for
Ive gotta figure it out
Before I lose you
Before I lose you
Before I lose you love
