

Ernest Tubb, I Will Miss You When You Go

I will miss you when you go much more than you'll ever know
But I'll have a memory to keep you near
In my heart you will remain but it just won't be the same
I will miss the million things that make you dear
Your lovely ways make you so sweet I prayed the angels fair will keep You're happiness so you'll be blessed just as you deserve to be
And as you travel all your way just remember that each day
Someone thinks of you and hopes you're happy dear
(I just want myself aside to somewhere dear where you are To guide your rainbow to eternity)
And when it's shining from above it will sparkle down with love
In all its glory for the world to see
(I wonder darling where you are the happiness you have in mind)
Your treasured chest will be the best cause it's filled with God's sunshine
I wonder why there are so few lovely people just like you
My but I will surely miss you when you go
