

Ernest Tubb, Today

Today I'm like a leaf in autumn never again to know the spring
Today my heart is at rock bottom sorrow nothing else could bring
But those words you told me just today you said I'm only in your way
You left me and what could I say for my world ended today

[steel - guitar]

I turned and gazed into the darkness but no tomorrow could I see
And I remember your remarks I recall our used to be
I have a treasure yesterday something you can't take away
I'm lost I'll never find my way for my world ended today
