Eskobar, Why London

Where you going now? Where you going now? What you're looking for Is not outside your door Not in another land Still see a ticket in your hand

Why London? It's not your home Why London? Just a warzone

Where you going now? Where you going now? Have to step inside Have to pay some mind No matter where you are High above, or under the stars

Why London? It's not your home Why London? Just a warzone
