

Espen Lind, Where The Lost Ones Go

WHERE THE LOST ONES GO

Leave and let me go

You're not meant for me, I know

Carry on, carry on, and I'll stay strong

Leave and let me go

I will think of you, I know

But carry on, carry on, and I'll stay strong

Someone else will keep you warm from now on

Someone else will keep you safe from the storm

But I'll be with you wherever you go

So you will never be alone

I'm going where the wind blows

Going where the lost ones go

I will be with you

I'm losing the love I found

Crying without a sound

Where have you gone?

I will be with you

You were my fool for love

Sent me from high above

You were the one

I will be with you

I'm going where the wind blows

Going where the lost ones go

Leave and let me go

Don't look back just let me know

You'll carry on, carry on, you must stay strong

Nothing ever looks the same in the light

Nothing ever seems to quite turn out right

But when you realize that you have been loved

You will never be alone

I'm going where the wind blows

Going where the lost ones go

I will be with you

I'm losing the love I found

Crying without a sound

Where have you gone?

I will be with you

You were my fool for love

Sent me from high above

You were the one

I will be with you

I'm going where the wind blows

Going where the lost ones go

Leave and let me go

Baby I can't come along

Carry on, carry on, you must stay strong
