

Eternal Tears Of Sorrow, Tears Of Autumn Rain

It's autumn night, the pale moon reveals my emptiness
And my hollow wrath and fear inside
I close my eyes to sense her nightly lust once again
But my rage and thirst won't fade away
The nightly mist, the scent of autumn in my heart
I can hear the winter's song again
My will of life falls away like golden leaves
I'm just a flame who dies in shades
Let me feel your pain, tears of autumn rain
Words of blood on the shore: "There is light no more"
Freezing gale of the night silenced the stream of life
Lay us down to sleep on the crimson leaves
