

Eternity's End, Beyond the Gates of Salvation

On wings of eagles I'm riding the storm
Across the valleys of despair
Born into the darkness, a black raven's heart
Ethereal starlight guides my path

Alone I stand, an army of one
My unbroken spirit prevails
My sword is forged from the blood of my enemies
No one can challenge my will, I own my destiny

Through raging battles and furious winds
Through darkest nights I heed the call
Defeating legions and ruling the ruins
A warrior's pride will never fall

I hold the key to unlock my dreams
No one will stand in my way
Forevermore will the legends remember my name
Through the twilight of time

Far beyond the gates of salvation
Burns a flame to light up the night
Glorious, I carry the torch to the end of all days
Onward I ride on wings of the destiny

Far beyond the gates of salvation
Burns a flame to light up the night
Glorious, I carry the torch to the end of all days
Onward I ride on wings of the destiny
