

Eugenio Finardi, Why Love

I thought that in love it would be understood that a woman's love should make her man feel good but love hurts more than it pleases love hurts and leaves your heart bleeding I had a woman I loved her so she said ' I'm sorry baby but that's the way things go'cause' love hurts more than it pleases love hurts and leaves your heart bleeding

why love why love
why love can't I let you go why love do ya treat me so oh no why love even though I know that it always hurts me so

I tried to talk about it, I tried to understand but on the night she left me she slept with another man love hurts...
I thought the pain would ease with time but the more I think about it the more it blows my mind love hurts...

why love why love
why love do you treat me so why love can't I let you go
why love even though I know
that it always hurts me so

I thought that love could fill the holes that seem to somehow build in a young man's soul but love hurts... now I love my woman she really is a friend but the first thing I told her was 'Honey never again'
'cause love hurts...

why love why love
why love do ya treat me so why love can't I let you go oh no
why love even though I know that you always hurts me so oh no that you always hurts me so
that you always hurts me so