Europe, Stormwind

I like to sit beside the fire when the light is going down I like to hear the wild wind blow outside my door I have so much left to remember I have so much left to forget And I know I dont have to search for more But you want to change my world Stay out of my life Stormwind youre just like a wind Comin to drag me away Stormwind what ca I say I just dont want you to stay I like to walk around in dreams at night And play with kings and queens til the morning light I like to wake up in the morning unaware Of the fact that you are calling me to ask me if I want to be Someone who you could love and always care for but you want to change my world Stay out of my life Stormwind youre just like a wind Comin to drag me away Stormwind what ca I say I just dont want you to stay
