

Europe, Wasted Time

(Joey Tempest)

Blood's been spilled throughout all times
We should know better since we've been around
There's been changes there's no denyin'
But in what direction is good sense flying

This world so endless blue
Is better for lovers
You cry 'cause you don't know if it's true
If all those years've been wasted time

Evil strikes, you feel the fear
The vision of the future is no longer clear
In your mind you see yourself
Running and hiding you're somebody else
