

Eurythmics, Wise Guy

Leave my face down beneath the sun
I'll get a better view of what's going on
Let me do the things that I do best
In a state of humble gratefulness
This must be where I belong
The ice-cream king is playing my song
To a girl with a teenage clothing dilemma
Who says
Let me kiss your lips

If you smile with the wise
You get a key to an open sky
If you smile with the wise
You get to see your name in neon lights

Lead me into unknown pleasures
Save your lying for the needy
Give me something good to treasure
As I bite the hands that feed me
Suffer
Suffocate in wisdom
Read a book then smash the system
Free and foolish call it clever
I'm the one and only
Go-go getter

If you smile with the wise
You get a key to an open sky
If you smile with the wise
You get to see your name in neon lights
