

Everlife, Angels Cry

All the world
Is but a child
Screaming over all your words
No one hears your pain
They're way too busy for concern, oh

And the days
Become weeks
And the months turn into years
You've gotta know it by now
That only God sees all those tears, oh woah

When you cry
Cause it hurts
It doesn't mean that you're not heard
Cause aloud in heaven
Angels cry with you

Will you shout about the way you feel
Signs and lights that don't reveal
The true beginning of the end
You can make a line from here to Mars
Of those with broken dreams and scars
There will never be a fix outside a Savior

When you cry
Cause it hurts
It doesn't mean that you're not heard
Cause aloud in heaven
Angels cry with you, yeah oh oh oh

You can say they haven't known of hate
Or desire to retaliate
There must be someone
Someone we can blame, oh oh
But it's hard to put the anger down
And hear from God without a sound
And find a place to heal the unforgiveness

When you break
And you yell
And there's no one left to tell
You have the ears of heaven
And His grace will come to you
Come to you

When you cry
Cause it hurts
It doesn't mean that you're not heard
Cause aloud in heaven
Angels cry with you
Oh oh
Oh oh