

Everyday Sunday, Stand Up

(Chorus) I will stand up now, I will not step down.
I will do my best to wear this crown,
but I need You as You guide me through today.

You wake up out of bed, walk out of your castle,
and then you lift up your head.
When will you wake up and see it takes more than just you to get through this life.
Going around the town, maybe someone had brought him down.
Different maybe, not the same, everyone thinks.

(Chorus)

He's going out there now, and all the things he has found, everything around is new.
No more holding back as the crowd looks from afar
Everything he has is You
