

Exit, The Line

Looking out your window
Wishing you were somewhere else right now
Looking for the big show
Promise that your gonna make them "wow"

That's right, it's a Friday night
And we had a fight, so you missed your flight

Did you go to bed early?
You said you wouldn't miss my call
I've got the doctor worried
I promised not to piss him off

My back, it's a heart attack
And I'm kickin' back so I can't react

(CHORUS)
And then she says "oh, oh"
I think I'm gonna tell her that I've got to go
"oh, oh"
But I'm hanging on the line until she knows

We're both riding shotgun
On a sunny afternoon
We didn't get a lot done
Cause you think we're making up to soon

For this, as we reminisce
And I steal a kiss, for the time we missed

(CHORUS)
And then she says "oh, oh"
I think i'm gonna tell her that I've got to go
"oh, oh"
But I'm hanging on the line until she knows

(SOLO)

(CHORUS)
And then she says "oh, oh"
I think I'm gonna tell her that I've got to go
"oh, oh"
But I'm hanging on the line until she knows

"oh, oh"
I think I'm gonna tell her that I've got to go
"oh, oh"
But I'm hanging on the line until she knows
