

Exploited, There Is No Point

You're right you're right there is no point
So what's the point
We argue scream and start
To shout so what's the point

(Chorus)

You're right again you're right again there is no point
What's the fking what's the point

You moan when I go out with my mates
What's the point
You call me up again and again
What's the point

(Chorus)

You're right again you're right again there is no point
What's the fking what's the point

You moan you shout
You scream again
What's the point
Your face is tripping you
It's turning blue
What's the point

(Chorus)

What's the fking what's the point
What is the point (x4)
What's the fking point
