

Ezio, Thousand Years

It's a nice surprise to see you
Christ, you look even better than before
It's not fair to ask if I still want you
When you know I need you even more

And I'm glad we're both alright now
We've got ourselves back under control
We're just living day to day
And we're sticking, we're sticking to our role

But if I lived a thousand years
Everyday I'd think of you
A thousand years
Do you think I'll see them through

But sometimes it feels just like a slow spiral
Spinning round, sinking down, down, down below
Out of control I'm in a slow spiral
And I'm free-falling into the dark and cold

But if I lived a thousand years
Everyday I'd think of you
A thousand years
Do you think I'll see them through

No, it's nobody's fault what happened
And there is nothing anybody can do
It's not that long...
No, I said a thousand years is not that long
No, a thousand years is not that long
I'll think you'll see them through.
