

Face First, Bottle Rocket

Step back, glance at all the things you've done in your time.
Step up to the starting line and don't look back.
Wake up, don't choke, digest everything you wanna do.
You'll never get this chance again, it won't come.

Something inside
will take your mind of it all,
when you don't think twice,
everything will work itself out

Shut up, don't whine, things will start to come in good time.
You've got time to start over again.
Sleep now, dream how good it could be for you now.
Step back, glance at everything.