

Face The Fact, The Sunset

I need a room without a view
So nothing I see will remind me of you
Just four grey walls
To keep out the light of day

Must be a place that I can go
Where I can't look outside and know
That I'm the fool
That let you slip away

Closing my eyes won't do
I need a room without a view

If I had a room without a view
I'd have to pad all the mirrors too
Because what they show
Is just as hard on me

Don't wanna face the fact you're gone
Don't wanna see another sunset alone
Cause when you're not here
Who needs the scenery

If I'm gonna make it through
I need a room without a view

Every thing from stars to sunlight
Or the wind blowing through the trees
Brings back the memory
Of a love that we shared

Pull the shades and draw the curtains
Board up the windows too
To get over you
I need a room without a view

Pull the shades and draw the curtains
Board up the windows too
To get over you
I need a room without a view

Oh yes I do
I need a room without a view
