

Face To Face, A Thousand Times

I've tried to ask the question
Must be a million answers that just aren't there
You try to find yourself
I'll try to live my life
I just don't care

Take a look at your life
Tell me can you say you've done no wrong?
Ask yourself the question
Do you realize where you belong?
I've been down
I've been out
I've been there

I've been down this road a thousand times
Nothing ever looks the same
It seems to me
There's something more I might never see
