

Faces, Nobody Knows

(Ronnie Lane, Ron Wood)

I'm waiting here in patience

Am I waiting all in vain?

Will I see you? Will I touch you?

Will I hear you call my name?

Come and make

Ten steps to every one step that I take

Nobody comes and nobody goes,

No one is happy, and no one has woes.

Everything lasting, ever the same,

Nothing is ending, nothing can change.

The Good Lord always has been,

Always will be ever the same.

And confusion mixed with illusion

All years only turn again

With one and one hundred names

Had all the rooms, our key is to change.

Nobody comes and nobody goes,

No one is happy and no one has woes,

Everything lasting, nothing can change,

Nothing is ending, ever the same
