Failure, Pitiful

down by the railroad tracks i will enjoy you can't feel a single thing that won't fade away we'll laugh like we always do, when we hear the whistle so high and satisfied, let's sleep for a spell

pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent down at the carpet shop you wanna cut me the patterns are laughing out, i know it's not fair go ahead roll me up in your detachment i'm here to decorate your fear for awhile

pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent

you wanna hold on to me i wanna hold out on you that's what you'll tell yourself as i fade away into your isolation pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent you're pitiful, laughable, once again silent
