

Fairyland, Clanner Of The Light

Light will come and shine on me again

Wake up!

Broken my chains, along the walls of Eldergrave

I run to my freedom, alive and strong once more

Time has passed

Deliverance for all

My call will strike the end

The curse is gone forever more

The call of revolution roars beyond the gates

Cry out of the dying men, the desolation, persecutions ache inside my heart, but I shall swear for revenge

[bridge:]

Light will come and shine on me again

Yet it shines through the clouds

On the day we'll all be free again

[chorus:]

Clanner of the Light

The shine and your force deliver hope for all

Clanner of the Light

The sword in your hand strikes for all

Beyond these walls of pain a better world awaits

So hold onto your freedom call

I'll bring the kingdom come to find a greater light

So hold onto your freedom call

Gods I've seen the ending, the final stage for all and shadows drift upon my skin as the night will fear from us all

[chorus]

Light will come and shine on me again

Wake up!

Broken my chains, along the walls of Eldergrave

I run into my freedom, alive and strong once more

Time has passed

Deliverance for all

My call will strike the end

the curse is gone forever more

The call of revolution roars beyond the gates

[bridge]

[chorus]