

Faith Hill, Shadows

(Hillary Lindsey)

Show me your shadows
Let down the guard that you hold so high
Come all unraveled
Give me the pieces you always hide

I will not judge you
I will not run
When you let me see you come undone
Uncover your secrets
Give me your trust
Oh, my love is strong enough
For your shadows

I don't know what haunts you, baby
The ghosts that you fight with the lone at night
The fears that confront you
I wanna see you from every side

I will not judge you
I will not run
When you let me see you come undone
Uncover your secrets
Give me your trusts
Oh, my love is strong enough
For your shadows

Let me lie down in your dreams
Let me see and touch everything
Everything

Walk me through your shadows

I will not judge you
I will not run
When you let me see you come undone
Uncover your secrets
Give me your trust
Oh, my love, my love is strong enough
For your shadows
