

Fallen Angels, Danielle

Always running
Against time
Hardly fighting
What has to come
Hating, burning
Human souls
Constantly turning
The living into stone
And all you've got now
Are those statues in your garden
Of frozen hearts that won't survive
Chorus:
Never surrender
Tell me, do you know who you are?
Always remember
That alone you won't get that far You're discovering hidden strength
Slowly dying
Losing your faith
Trying to find
A reason why
You get blind as Time flies by
Your mirrors are broken
All your angles are revealed
And through the cracks of your body you scream
Repeat Chorus
Keep the pain, learn with it
Don't just fade with the mist hunting your ghosts with butterfly net
And all those troubles you haven't faced yet
Never surrender, always look back
But if it comes after you, don't think, attack
Repeat Chorus
You know what is better
So just make your way and get going
You don't need shelter
let's see if you can live by your own
