

Falling Sickness, Man Of The Moment

I'm gonna kick these notes right into the streets where they belong to liven up deadbeats I'm gonna suck the juice out of this life and spit it past the stage to fill this dull world with rage that's quick to age and be forgotten shove shit down your throats I'll change more minds than votes and live your futile dreams your futile dreams turned rotten if I could only live these words for a moment
if I could only fool myself
for a moment
for a moment
if I could only feel I could for one moment
