

Fancy, All We Need Is To Believe

Waiting deep inside your heart
There is a gateway
Leading us to all the dreams
We are dreaming of
Seems that we have lost the key
To understanding
All we need is to believe
If we only trust the way we feel
There is so much to regain
There is mystery
There is magic
We can wash away the pain

All we need is to believe
All we need is to believe
Mighty change
Mighty change
All we need is to believe
All we need is to believe

Mighty change
Mighty change

The universe we share is simply a reflection
A mirror of a many thoughts
We're thinking of
If we want to reach
The land of sweet perfection
All we need is to believe
If we hold hands by the millions
We can make a mighty change
We can be a force for peace and love
That forever will remain

If we hold hands by the millions
We can make a mighty change
We can be a force for peace and love
That forever will remain
