

Far From Heroes, Say A Prayer

Walking among us
No one knows he never shows his face into the light
And every shadow screams with fear just as he walks by
The crowd would part in to the sea and drown in misery
Drown in misery

Sell your soul for silver
The time has come now to deliver
Reflecting lies by acting shy
Reflecting lies don't try to justify

Into the desert
Deserted
His mind his body, spirit and his soul
He's cursed forever
Eternity
Hell never show his face into the light
His one ambition
Power, greed, hang from a tree
Betrayed you with a kiss
When everybody welcomed him into discipleship
Betrayed you with a kiss

Hold on to every word, watch every single movement
And put it down on paper then say a prayer.
Sit around the table, pass around the bread and wine
Blessing every written line then say a prayer.
