

Far Too Jones, Piggy

Hush my little piggy now, don't you cry
Momma's gonna buy you a brand new lie
As the will gets weaker and the debt grows deeper
Deep down, I think I might be catching on

Be still my little piggy now don't you move
Daddy's gonna breed his fear through you
As you shake and shiver, your little fat leg quivers
And I, I think I might be catching on

Out of the worry
Out of the weaknesss
Out of contempt
You were led astray
I...and I ...I'm over it now
I...and I ...I'm over it now
Are you listening to me?
Are you listening to me?

I'm not afraid anymore...of you
And not all of your friends
And not all of the shit you did to try to pen piggy in
I have tried to love you again
I have tried to love you again
But you're making me feel stupid
You're making me feel stupid
And I, have I tried too long?

Out of contempt we were led astray
It takes more than this
It takes more
Are you listening to me?
Are you really listening to me?
I'm not afraid
