

Farewell, Eighty-Eights

I've got a picture of you and me and it's taped to the mirror so you can See your eyes
I'm not sure exactly how i feel about it
Stay all night
There's one last chance to hold each other tight

We're gonna say goodbye
We're gonna say goodnight
I wish there was more time

Because we're giving it up
I will be just fine
We're gonna go go go to the next state line
And we're living it up
Leave it all behind
And I say "goodnight" to a closing skyline

I'm alright
I'm absolutely sure I'll get through all of this
Up all night
There's one last shot to get the ending right

We're gonna say goodbye
We're gonna say goodnight
I wish there was more time

Because we're giving it up
I will be just fine
We're gonna go go go to the next state line
And we're living it up
Leave it all behind
And I say "goodnight" to a closing skyline

around this town
And the weeks and the miles and the street clowns, yeah
We gotta get out somehow
Yeah we gotta get somehow

All the tough bars and rockstars who've plagued this place
And the thugs and the bums that get in your face
And all the bullshit and drama that can't be erased yet
We gotta get out somehow

Because we're giving it up
I will be just fine
We're gonna go go go to the next state line
And we're living it up
Leave it all behind
And I say "goodnight" to a closing sky
Because we're giving it up
I will be just fine
We're gonna go go go to the next state line
And we're living it up
Leave it all behind
