

Farmer Boys, In My Darkest Hour

Can you forgive me
For all I've done
Give me absolution
Just this once
Take me in your arms
Back into your fold
Here where I belong
When the stars above
Start falling from
The crown that they adorn
I'll be waiting
In my darkest hour
When you were gone
When I lost the power
That I had won
Beyond the sky
Time passes me by
There where I belong
Start falling from
The crown that they adorn
I'll be waiting
When the earth stands still
And the end is fulfilled
I'll be waiting on the shore
