

Fear Like Us, She'll Be Right!

"To protest is unpatriotic"
well, they wouldn't know shit from clay
"and you can either live within the margins or leave on the next leaky boat because we all have choices you know."

So will it always be us versus them?
Will the diverse cycle be broken?

Oh Australia, is it un-Australian to ever open your mouth?
While we're hanging on the coat tails of a world that's crashing down.

so in your own words can you tell me what exactly is our cultural identity?
'cause if "she'll be right!" is our national conscience
well that couldn't be anymore clear to me

Ah Australia, the Lucky Country? Will we ever belong?
Are the only wars worth fighting, those with guns?
Well, I don't think so!