

Feeder, Burn The Bridges

Fool yourself, it's not a trend
You're a lover, you're not a friend
You bring new life to aching bones
Give me strength to carry on
Send the whole thing back to me
Sow me up where wounds still bleed
All forgotten by the way, she understands
She understands
She understands
She understands

'cause maybe I just don't believe, they all stay around
I burn the bridges to the ground
They're all still around

I can't decide, I can't pretend
Bring the summer back again
All forgotten by the way, she understands
She understands
Complicated and intense, just the faintest circumstance
All forgotten by the way, she understands
She understands
She understands
She understands

'cause maybe I just don't believe, they all stay around
I burn the bridges to the ground
They're all still around

Fool yourself, it's not a trend
You're a lover, you're not a friend
You bring new life to aching bones
Give me strength to carry on
Send the whole thing back to me
Sow me up where wounds still bleed
All forgotten by the way, she understands
She understands
She understands
She understands

'cause maybe I just don't believe, they all stay around
I burn the bridges to the ground
They're all still around
An maybe I just don't believe
Stay around
