

Fiddler's Green, Don't Let Go

There was a day I knew a broken heart
Her sky was grey and the night was dark
As she went walking right through the night
In search of flaming light

Her mind was lonely, misunderstood
For no one's darling and there she stood
Her face not homely with evil eyes
The fire down inside

Baby let's cry out my heart belongs to you now
So come on be mine and don't let yourself go
Baby let's try out our lives take the same way
So come on be mine now and let your tears go

Me love ran deeper than any sea
We felt together as close as can be
She took me breathless my thoughts they've gone
Like reaching higher ground

I do remember it was her last goodbye
She said: Forgive me, he's a friend of mine
And then she closed with two veily eyes
The door deep in her mind

Baby let's cry out my heart belongs to you now
So come on be mine and don't let yourself go
Baby let's try out our lives take the same way
So come on be mine now and let your tears go

Oh I love you my friend
So give me your hand
I show you the way
