

Figurines, Ambush

Getting down to the neon fair
Selling out on a ride
I'm on the road to the bayou
I sing along with the banjo
Two miles from who knows where
Ten smiles for the girls in underwear
I read the lines in your diary
Two-faced girl, I'm sorry

Got your picture in the magazine
Show the people what they've never seen
Chase them down because you're angry
Chase them down because you're angry

Ambush in the setting sun
Moving out every night
I had a dream about the bayou
And my favorites on vinyl
Two miles from who knows where
I fake a smile because I never really cared
I read the lines in your diary
Two-faced girl, I'm sorry

Got your picture in the magazine
Show the people what they've never seen
Chase them down because you're angry
Chase them down because you're angry

I woke up, saw the flaming dawn
I made it home at last
Where do you go from the bayou?
Tell me the truth, will I ever know?
Two miles from who knows where
We got seperated at the neon fair
Look at the boats heading out through the snow
To destination I'll never know

Got your picture in the magazine
Show the people what they've never seen
Chase them down because you're angry
Chase them down because you're angry
