

Finding Westerly, Are You Still Here

The way, you wanted it
The day, you started this
Don't drift so far from what you feel
I know, its different now
But i hope, someway somehow
It will all come together in the end

If i should fall would you catch me dear,
With your open arms and a heart that holds me near
Are you still here?

You learn, to let things go
But inside, youll always know
The good the bad, it sticks in you
This wrong, can be a right
If its all, in your heart tonight
Make up for mistaked thoughts of your life

If i should fall would you catch me dear
With your open arms and a heart that holds me near
Are you still here?
If i hit the ground would you pick me up,
Help me to my feet or would it not be good enough
Are you still here?

I can-remember-The moments of nights again
The music-The people-I can see it all so well
The smell of the air-The look of the sky-Seems just like yesterday
But we've been gone-For so long-And i just hope that you'll be there

If i should fall would you catch me dear,
With your open arms and a heart that holds me near
Are you still here?
If i hit the ground would you pick me up,
Help me to my feet or would it not be good enough
Are you still here?
