

Finding Westerly, Sounds Of A Broken Heart

watching you sleep
slipping away
thinking of how i can get you to stay wonderin how things got so wrong
you're here with me but your already gone

too blind to know
to dumb to see
that your not even
in love with me
too blind to know
too dumb to see
id be better off if you weren't with me

your runnin this by her emotions on fire
your love is now past her
the burning is faster

watchin the phone
for a surprise
the sounds of your voice cries in the night
readin the notes
you wrote me before remembering why that is you i adore

too dumb to see
that your not even in love with me
too dumb to see

your running this by her
is faster
rememberin why there is just one way faster faster the burnin is faster
