

Firebird, Steamroller

You know that I've been trying
To find my way back home
I stretched so far I could not see
That I was all alone

Looking for the answer
Was all I ever knew
And no amount of crying
Will make my dream true

Something here inside my heart
Seemed wrong, I know
Nothing's clear then fall apart
Roll on, roll on (hard?)

I've been losing my way, yeah
I've been losing my way

Well your head was full of questions
Still you spoke your mind
You thought no one would notice
When the truth was far behind

You ask if I've been
The dusk until the dawn
I can't accept your ruling
For me the line's been drawn

Something here inside my heart
Seemed wrong, I know
Nothing's clear then fall apart
??? rule on

I've been losing my way, yeah
I've been losing my way

Something here inside my heart
Seemed wrong, I know
Nothing's clear then fall apart
Roll on ???

I can't give it away, yeah
