Fireside, Monsoon

You fell asleep
Just to make me feel bad
Denied me your body
And made me feel dead

Since it went wrong It has never been the same But everything changes Its all just a game

Though they say that in time Everything will go right

Too far away
And times not on my side
I tried to call you
Still knowing youre out
I cant wait
Until i hear your voice again

Though they say that in time Everything will go right Its hopelessly black Its coming back

Dont you know Its with you that i feel the best The pains still in my chest It never rests
