

Fisher, Never Say Never

Don't fly into the sun
Your wings will melt and you'll come down
I say you'll never know
Until you try away I go to the sun
I'm waving to the ground
I'll see you later

I will go and I will try
Anything one time and I
Never say, never, why should I?
I will try and I will go
Anywhere never say, never say
Never as why

Who knows tomorrow may never...
Come

I can't conceive the day I feel the Earth
No not me, I dream of open windows
And if you never fly
Your wings are useless

I will go, and I will try
Anything one time and I
Never say, never, why should I?
I will fly, and I will go
Anywhere never say never say
Never as why

Who knows, tomorrow may never...
Come.
