

Five Bolt Main, Breathing

Come on and start right now
Where are these places, they hide themselves so well
In certain faces, I thought that you could tell
Which ones are decent, which ones begin to smell
Well you should round 'em up and tell 'em all to go to hell
It's so confusing the state of mind I'm in
All the abusing, impossible to win
In these times, and these ways, in these lines, as the days get shorter
Please keep on breathing, I know you're aching
It will be leaving, stop the explosion
No one is innocent, just think that you can
Pick yourself up again, then healing will begin
To start right now
How did we get here, been on the road so long
The same appearance, there is no right from wrong
It's all so scary, the storm is moving in Wrapped up in your fear and so confused on where to begin
It's overwhelming, the state of mind we're in
And so concerning, the kind of mess we're in
In these times, and these ways, in these lines, as the days get shorter
Please keep on breathing, I know you're aching
It will be leaving, stop the explosion
No one is innocent, just think that you can
Pick yourself up again, then healing will begin
To start right now
Can't seem to stop this (get this off my chest)
Can't seem to stop this (get this off my chest)
Please keep on breathing, I know you're aching
It will be leaving, stop the explosion
No one is innocent, just think that you can
Pick yourself up again, then healing will begin
To start right now
