

Flogging Molly, The Wrong Company

Well I fell into prison about a quarter to three Where I found in my cell a glass waiting for me
So I filled what was empty and I pulled up a stool
But he stood in the corner, the old devil wouldn't move
He said, "You drink when you're lonely." "No I drink when I want!"
He said, "You'll never be sober." "Sure, why would I want that?"
I only drink to be merry but unfortunately...
I'm in the wrong prison cell and the wrong company
