

Foals, Mountain At My Gates

i see a mountain at my gates i see it more & more each day what i give it takes away whether i go or when i stay

i see a fire out by the lake i'll drive my car without the breaks i see a mountain in my way it's looming larger by the day i see a darkness in my fate

i'll drive my car without the breaks

oh gimme some time
show me the foothold from which i can climb yeah when i feel low
you show me a signpost for where i should go

& my desire wears a dark dress but each day i see you less

through lanes & stone rows, black granite, wind blows fire lake & far flame go now but come again dark clouds gather round will i run or stand my ground?

oh when i come to climb show me the mountain so far behind yeah it's farther away its shadow gets smaller day after day yeah, gimme my way gimme my love gimme my choice

you keep me coming around

gimme my fate
gimme my lungs gimme my voice
you keep me coming around
