

Focused, Open My Eyes

No more standing all alone
so much that I have found.
Love in my eyes thats all that you will see but why is it only me?
True life given on the cross yet we continue to be lost.
Cant you see its in our grasp?
Our faith is where well make it last.

Praying God take my life.
My heart opened, forgive me.
The weight that once forced me down
now I open my eyes so I can see.

And Im on the edge but Im falling off.
Searching for truth and Ill give it all Ive got.

Open my eyes.
