Folk Implosion, Someone You Love

You gave me something I need to leave alone You gave me all I could want to turn my heart to stone

O00..

I don't want to be someone you love

I save you all I could find to find myself with you Couldn't see you never believed, you never listened to me, You never told me the truth

O00.

I don't want to be someone you love Ooo.. I'd be happy without you Dropping doubts from the clouds up above
