

Fonzie, Wise Guy

You know I've been around it's time to look a new direction now
You know I've been around
'cause the weight of the world is gonna crash you down so I rushed and I run

and I got off the tracks
my direction was wrong

I will go away
to start another day

Sometimes it's hard to get by
'cause you're empty and you never try

I've got my feet on the ground but my head is up above and I can't hear a sound many mistakes to be found but this place looks the same and the lights are down

so I rushed and I run
and I got off the tracks
my direction was wrong
but you know I got a new destination I'm just calling to say goodbye

I will go away

'cause you're empty and you're never try

I've walked this road from East to West even been up, North, South and still all the same there's no other way to go I'll find another way to go it's all around you my friend
