Fool's Garden, Good Night

When blue ethereal winds arise And stars begin to paint the skies Then don't be scared Just close your eyes

When veils of silence lay them down And noone seems to be around I'll be there for you, wait for you the whole night through Good night - I love you

Elfs and sprites, they'll be your side To lead you straight to your heart Don't be afraid of going into

I'll be there for you, wait for you the whole night through Good night - I love you
