

For Felix, Been There Done That

I swear I've been here before
I've walked up and down this lonely corridor
I've heard these words countless times
But still I can stand here and look at you as you pass the same old lines
I've been alone I've petrified my heart
To solid stone but still I can hurt
But I can't cry
I've wanted to so much I wonder why and I'm not surprised
I find I can't believe Anything you've said to me
Anything you told me that you feel
I find this breakup unreal
But I know how to hurt
I've been down this road a thousand times I've been alone I've petrified my heart
To solid stone but still I can hurt
But I can't cry
I've wanted to so much I wonder why and I'm not surprised
I find I can't believe Anything you've said to me
Anything you told me that you feel
I find this breakup unreal
But I know how to hurt I've been down this road a thousand times
