

Fort Minor, Nobody's Listening (Green Lantern Re

Let's go, peep the style and the kids checkin' for it
The number one question is "How could you ignore it?"
We drop right back in the cut, the evil genius track
In Mike's raps got you backin' this up like, rewind that Just rollin' with the rhythm
Rise from the ashes of stylistic division
With these nonstop lyrics of life-livin'
Not to be forgotten but still unforgiven
But in the meantime there are those
Who wanna talk this and that so I suppose
It gets to a point where feeling's gotta get hurt
And get dirty with the people spreadin' the dirt
It's like

I try to give you warning but everyone ignores me
(I told you niggas nine, ten times, stop fuckin' with me)
But nobody's listening
Call to you so clearly but you don't want to hear me
(I told you niggas nine, ten times, stop fuckin' with me)
But nobody's listening

I got a heart full of pain, head full of stress
Handful of anger held in my chest
And everything left's a waste of time
I hate my rhymes but hate everyone else's more
I'm ridin' on the back of this pressure
Guessin' that it's better, I can't keep myself together
Cause all of this stress gave me somethin' to write on
The pain gave me somethin' I could set my sights on
You never forget the blood, sweat and tears
The uphill struggle over years
The fear and trash talkin' and the people it was to What up to the Militia and the LPU

I try to give you warning but everyone ignores me
(I told you niggas nine, ten times, stop fuckin' with me)
But nobody's listening
Call to you so clearly but you don't want to hear me
(I told you niggas nine, ten times, stop fuckin' with me)
But nobody's listening

We got a heart full of pain, head full of stress
Nobody's listening
Handful of anger held in my chest
Nobody's listening
Uphill struggle, blood, sweat and tears
Nobody's listening
Y'all watch your back, Machine Shop is here
