

Fragma, Just Like A Teardrop

A warm summer breeze
A blink of an eye
I'm waiting for you to hold me
Over the seas and into the sky
I'm longing for you to unfold me
No, we've never been so close before
And never will be again
Now I need you so much more

Just like a teardrop that clings to my eye
Just like a rainbow that reigns in the sky
You're taking me high
You're making me cry
You're shaking my feelings as time passes by
You're just like a teardrop ready to fly

You're just like a teardrop that clings to my eye
You're just like a teardrop ready to fly

A path through the trees
We give it a try
I'm thinking 'bout all that you told me
A moment of peace
We never ask why
No, we've never been so close before
And never will be again
Now I need you so much more

Just like a teardrop that clings to my eye
Just like a rainbow that reigns in the sky
You're taking me high
You're making me cry
You're shaking my feelings as time passes by
You're just like a teardrop ready to fly
