

Fragma, You Are Alive

you'r doing fine
most of the time
you sit and wonder
what tommorow brings
all kinds of things
you sit and wait
you hesitate
just like you never been in love before
there's so much more
on your own and
though you feel alone
you are alive
don't you know
it's just another day
all alone into this world we're thrown
you are alive
don't you know
it's just another day?
on you own and though you feel alone
you are alive
don't you know
it's just another day?

you turn around
you're lost and found
looking for someone who will understand
or hold your hand
you count the days
a hopeless case
but for the first time
you will wait for me
patiently

on your own and
though you feel alone
you are alive
don't you know
it's just another day?
all alone into this world we're thrown
you are alive

it's just another day?
on your own and
it's just another day?
don't you alive
it's just another day
